

Third-Floor Naming Opportunities

A range of naming opportunities are available for individuals, families, organizations, and corporations for the Greater Oneonta Historical Society's third-floor space at the History Center. These naming opportunities enable donors and corporate sponsors to pay tribute to the community and their relationship with GOHS, or to honor and recognize someone special in their lives.

See some of the opportunities below.

Third Floor

This naming opportunity covers the entirety of the third-floor space!

Ballroom

The ballroom is the lifeblood of the GOHS's third floor. Once the location for local community gatherings, events, balls, and live music, the newly renovated ballroom will continue the legacy of our building's third floor. The space will serve as a destination for residents, local organizations, tourists, and the community to attend and enjoy institutional meetings, get-togethers, parties, fundraisers, programs, celebrations, and GOHS events and programs—the possibilities are endless.

Exhibition Gallery

In addition to the ballroom space, GOHS's third floor will include an exhibition space that we will use for the display of our oversized collection items and temporary and permanent displays. This gallery space will help boost the community's involvement in and access to Oneonta's local history and the humanities and arts.

Kitchen

No event space is complete without a kitchen! The third-floor kitchen will be equipped to accommodate large and small-scale catered events. It will include storage space, a refrigerator, sink, cabinet space, and microwave.

Bandstand

One of the original features of the ballroom, the raised bandstand, accommodated local bands and musicians who provided entertainment to the many visitors who attended events on the third floor. While the bandstand will no longer be active or accessible from below, its historic legacy lives on.
